DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 2, 5, 8, 13 – 14, 20 – 21, 24, 27, 32 – 33, 39, 40, 43, 46, and 51 - 54 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. patent 5,687,167 to Bertin in view of U.S. patent 5,600,638 to Bertin

Bertin 167 teaches finding the best path through a network wherein the best path has the fewest number of links (ie, hops, see col 11 lines 24+) and then preempting other existing connections in order to allow the new connection to be established on the link wherein the new and old links are assigned individual priority numbers (see col 14 lines 5+). Bertin et also teaches preempting only lower priority requests. See col 14 lines 26+. Bertin does not however teach having an acceptable number of hops as a criteria for path selection (see line 7 of claim 1 and other locations wherein this limitation is claimed). This is taught in Bertin 638. See col 5 lines 50+, col 6 lines 55+ ("path length constraints") and col 11 lines 66+.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have provided Bertin 167 with a means for determining if the selected path length satisfies a hop count number constraint, in light of the teachings of Bertin 638, in order to insure fair allocation of bandwidth amongst the competing users of the network.

Art Unit: 2616

With regard to claim 2, see the rejection above.

With regard to claim 5, see figure 7 in Bertin 167 and note col 4 lines 30+.

With regard to claims 20 – 21, 24, 39 – 40, 43, 51 – 52, see the rejections above.

It is noted that with respect to claims 51 - 52, col 18 lines 55+ of Bertin discuss memory occupation of the topology database, which operates under the control of programmable logic.

With regard to claims 8, 13 – 14, 27, 32 – 33, 46, 53 – 54, See the rejections above and note that in each of the above claims, an MPLS system is claimed. Note further that in Bertin 167, a “Label Swapping” system is taught in one of the embodiments. See col 7 lines 10+. Note that MPLS is one obvious type of “Label Swapping.”

3. Applicants remarks are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.
4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
